

WARRIOR LIBRARIAN COMMUNITY PROJECT: THE WORLD'S 9 MOST WANTED LIBRARIANS

SUVLAKI APOSTROPOLE

Trachoma, Wyoming

Interfering with a person's computer access or use.

On April 21, duty librarian Apostropole was captured on CCTV asking a group of teenagers to step away from the keyboard and surrender their computer passes. Apostropole claims that the young adults were violating the library's Acceptable Use Policy in accessing websites that would not have been approved by their mothers.

MARYANNE ROSALYN PLATE

Papilloma, New Mexico

Accepting an unauthorized payment whilst holding public office.

Following the organization of an Author Talk, Plate was presented with a boxed collector's set of the author's work. On investigation, the books were found three months later amongst the cataloging backlog, caused by the staff reductions due to budget cuts.

JOHN ERIC OLDMAN

Anthrax, West Virginia

Disturbing the peace. After reading an illicitly received email joke, Oldman was heard to laugh loudly a number of times. During the library's opening hours on October 27, he repeated the joke at least three times, causing a number of members of the public to laugh loudly in the library.

CHERRIE ANN CANNON

Neuralgia, Vermont

Improperly using a Position of Authority. The former cataloguer for the County Library Services was convicted by the Catalogue Police of using an unreasonable number of added entries and local terminology, in direct contravention of the Articles within AACR2.

YOUSEF ARMANI

Myopia, Tennessee

Carrying a concealed or loaded firearm or other deadly weapon.

Agents intercepted Armani as he attempted to leave the library where he was The Administrator, as he had set off a metal detecting device. Following a full body search, Armani was relieved of a Number #10 stapler.

PAUL JAMES GRIMSHAW

Gangrene, Pennsylvania

Making threats that could result in death or great bodily injury to another person. On February 29, Grimshaw posted between 200 and 220 overdue notices, stating that unless the books were returned a collection agency would be engaged to collect payment for the resources.

KARISHNAPALLABANI SINGH

Cirrhosis, Ohio

Shooting at an inhabited or occupied dwelling house, building, vehicle, aircraft, housecar or camper.

Charges were dropped following an investigation which revealed a typing error in the police report. Singh had actually been reported as shouting, not shooting, at his library's annual Weed Sale when a heated discussion broke out on the relative merits of graphic novels.

JEREMY WILLIAM TAYLOR

Impetigo, Maine

Possession of known drug with intent to distribute.

On January 2, federal agents wrestled Taylor to the ground and removed from his possession a cardboard tray containing four paper cups marked 'Starbucks'. Taylor was on probation following his December 24 arrival at his place of work with two bottles of champagne and a bag of cholesterol-packed pretzels.

ANNA LESLEY PARKINS

Lymphoma, Delaware

Threatening public officers, employees, and school officials.

On May 9, Parkins was supervising in her elementary school's library, when a substitute teacher sent four known 'villains' to the library for 'time out'. Parkins sent the children back to class with a note saying that there was a documented procedure for dealing with uncooperative students. The sub then sent the whole class to the library with another note. Parkins then engaged in ongoing conversations with the sub ...
